ACTION OF THE BOARD

February 12, 1873, pursuant to call, the Board met to act upon negotiations for the location of the German College at Mt. Pleasant. After careful consideration, in order to meet the condition of the S. W. German Conference that $20,000 should be raised on endowment of said College previous to such location, it was agreed that, in view of the continued efforts of Dr. Wheeler and others interested in securing the said conditional amount, a guaranty note should be given to the Trustees of said German College, in the name of the Iowa Wesleyan University, to secure the deficiency that might remain of said conditional amount at the time required by the said S. W. German Conference; and certain parties assumed the payment of the interest of said guaranty note for one year. At the same meeting the Board provided for the establishment of a Medical Department of the University. They also appointed a committee to revise and codify the by-laws of the University.

At the annual meeting, June 13, 1873, the following officers were elected, viz: President, Rev. W. F. Cowles; Vice President, Dr. W. Bird; Secretary, Rev. E. H. Waring; Financial Secretary, Rev. E. L. Briggs; Treasurer, C. Snider; Executive Committee—Rev. A. Robinson, Chairman; H. Ambler, Secretary; E. L. Penn, Assistant Secretary; Dr. Wheeler, C. Snider, Dr. Bird, Rev. I. P. Teter.

The revised by-laws were adopted.

The matter of the German College was considered. From a report from Dr. Wheeler and H. Ambler it appeared that, in accordance with the spirit of the previous action of the Trustees, guaranty notes had been given to the Trustees of the German College, amounting to $9,000 00. But it appearing that these guaranty notes were not satisfactory to the parties, the Executive Committee, in view of the great interests involved, did give an unconditional note, so far as they had authority, to the amount of $8,000 00, with interest at 8 per cent. per annum, payable annually, to be exchanged for a Trustee note of like amount and terms.

In view of these facts of the interests involved, the Trustees of the University authorized and directed their President and Secretary to substitute the said guaranty notes and the note of the Executive Committee by a note of the Iowa Wesleyan University, of like amount, date and terms with the note of the Executive Committee. Which said note was accordingly executed and exchanged as thus provided.

They also, in view of the actual location of said German College at Mt. Pleasant, in connection with the University, and as an agreed condition of said location, authorized their attorney to convey to the Trustees of said German College, the east five acre lot of the College campus, to be used for a building site for said German College and uses incidental thereto. Which conveyance was subsequently made.

They also considered the matter of the location of a Swedish Bible School in connection with the University.

Appropriate action was taken as to the deaths of Revds. Dr. Power and A. S. Prather. The accounts of the several officers of the Board and the Agent were properly audited. The question of the proposed taxation of College and Church property was referred to your body.

The places of the following Trustees will be made vacant at this Conference by expiration of time, viz: James Harlan, E. H. Waring, Rev. T. E. Corkhill, T. Whiting and E. L. Penn. In the class for one year there is a vacancy occasioned by the death of Dr. Power, and one occasioned by the resignation of W. Tackaberry. The remaining Trustees consist of seven ministers and six laymen. The Conference is entitled to appoint this year three ministers and four laymen. I am notified by the Secretary of the Alumnal Association that, according to previous understanding, they have nominated Mr. C. L. Collins, of Knoxville, to represent them on the Board, and I ask your confirmation thereof. The Conference will also appoint one minister and one layman from each district of the Conference as visitors to the University.

The Board have instructed me to report to you their resolutions relative to the death of Dr. Power, which accompany this report. They also appeal to you, and through you to the public, for a more liberal endowment, increased patronage and the hearty sympathy, prayers and help of the ministers and people in behalf of the University.

The Trustees speak in terms of high commendation of the zeal and ability of Dr. Wheeler, and witness to the faithful and successful labors of the whole faculty. They feel that the business of the year has been unusually important, involving grave responsibilities. And they have and ought to act "for the best interests of the University, without fear, favor or affection." And they confidently submit their action to you, trusting that it will meet your approval.

On behalf of the Trustees,

E. H. WARING, Secretary.

June 17th, 1873.

VII. EPISCOPAL RESIDENCE.

The Committee made a report reciting the facts as to Bishop Andrews' purchase of a residence at Des Moines, and declaring themselves unable to make any other recommendation for the present than that the present arrangements be allowed to remain. [Secretary.]

VIII. FREEDMEN'S AID CAUSE.

The Freedmen's Aid Society of the M. E. Church has been successfully engaged in elevating the character and condition of the colored people of the South. It devotes especial attention to the preparation of teachers and preachers, and by their employment aims at the general education and salvation of this people. The Society has done all that could have been expected of it, in view of the limited means at its command. As yet but a small part of the field is cultivated. Large sections, teeming with tens of thousands of ignorant people, are to day without a single school. Multitudes, living in ignorance, appeal to us for help. Can we, as christians and philanthropists, deny them? The fate of this long oppressed people and the future of our nation depend largely upon our efforts in their behalf. No appeal to Methodism is more imperative; no field promises to us richer harvests.

At the last General Conference this Society was fully recognized, and it is made the duty of all our pastors to present its claims and take annual collections in its behalf. This Conference is called upon to raise $1,500 00 next year for the Society; therefore,

Resolved, That we will earnestly labor to secure increased contributions for this cause.

JOHN HARRIS, Chairman.

W. G. THORN, Secretary.

IX. LADIES' AND PASTORS' CHRISTIAN UNION.

WHEREAS, The General Conference recognized the Ladies' and Pastors' Christian Union as one of the regular societies of the Church; and inasmuch as there is great need of such an organization, therefore, your Committee would submit the following Constitution and recommend its adoption:

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE 1. This Association shall be known as the Iowa Conference Association of the Ladies' and Pastors' Christian Union.

ART. 2. Its object shall be to organize Auxiliaries to the Ladies' and Pastors' Christian Union, and to supervise its work throughout the Conference.

ART. 3. All members of the Conference and all members of the Ladies' and Pastors' Christian Union within its limits shall be members of this Association.

ART. 4. The officers of this Association shall be a President, a Vice President from each P. E. District, a Recording and a Corresponding Secretary, who together shall constitute an Executive Committee.

ART. 5. The duties of these officers shall be those usually devolving upon such officers, with the addition of those of the Corresponding Secretary, of careful correspondence with the Secretaries of Auxiliary Societies, the doing all in her power to encourage and increase their zeal in the work, and also reporting each meeting to the Corresponding Secretary of the Parent Society.

ART. 6. The meetings of this Association shall be held during the sessions of Conference, at which time reports shall be required of all Auxiliaries within the bounds of the Conference.

They also nominated officers. See List of Officers and Managers.

X. MEMOIRS.*I. MINISTERS.

1. Rev. JOHN H. POWER, D. D., was born in Montgomery County, Kentucky, March 15th, 1798. A vigorous physical nature was thoroughly developed through the labors of a farm and blacksmithing; while his early educational advantages were quite limited, enjoying the benefit of but a few months common school instruction, for which he walked six miles a day, in his seventh year. Believing it possible to rise above these discouragements through earnest toil, he undertook the task. How well he succeeded, the labors and success of a long and useful life testify.

As early as his seventh year he was the subject of deep religious impressions; but, in the absence of religious instruction, he traveled in darkness till his twentieth year, when he was again made the subject of the awakening of the Holy Spirit. But having been brought up without religious influences at home, and seldom enjoying the means of grace, he struggled nearly a year for the comforting assurance of pardon. The evidence, when received, was satisfying; at once he was constrained to say to all, "That which we have seen and heard, declare we unto you." With the consent of his parents, he at once erected the family altar, and soon rejoiced in their conversion. Both of them, many years after, died in the triumphs of faith. One by one his brothers and sisters were brought to a knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus, through his instrumentality.

In 1819 he united with the church. In 1821 he was licensed to preach, and was admitted on trial into the Kentucky Conference. In 1823 he was admitted into full connection. His appointments in the pastoral work were: Mt. Sterling and Hinkston Circuits, in Kentucky; Little Kanawha, Charleston and Parkersburg, in Virginia; Columbus, Salt Creek, Brush Creek, Chillicothe and Dear Creek, in Ohio, Burlington Circuit, Old Zion (Burlington), Muscatine and South Burlington, in Iowa—embracing a period of eighteen years. In the office of Presiding Elder he served on Norwalk, Wooster, Mt. Vernon, Delaware and Mansfield Districts, in Ohio, Burlington, Muscatine and Keokuk Districts, in Iowa—filling up twenty-eight years. In 1848 he was elected Assistant Agent of the Western Book Concern, where he remained till 1852. Through failing health, in 1854-55, he sustained a supernumerary relation. During these years he labored constantly; but, relieved from the anxiety of the regular work, he regained his health, and in 1856 was transferred to the Iowa Conference. Never did he enter upon the labors of a charge with more fervency than his last; but while the inner man had been growing, the outer was wasting. In harmony with his oft expressed desire, he was permitted to "cease at once to labor and to live." Having filled all of his appointments, Sabbath, January 19, preaching three times, attending two Sabbath schools, and riding ten miles, he retired, weary in body but joyful in spirit. On Monday morning he met the ministers of the city, reporting the labors of the preceding day, noting his improvement in health. In the evening he preached again, returning home about nine o'clock quite exhausted. Tuesday morning he was stricken with a nervous chill, followed by congestion of the left lung, and increasing feebleness, until Sabbath morning, January 26th, 15 minutes before four, he died in great peace, saying as he was entering the Valley of the Shadow of Death: "Tell the brethren of the Conference I fall at my post, enjoying peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. All is bright."

There was in his life but little, if anything, artificial. His success in every undertaking and influence in every position were not accidents, but the result of his inherent energy and mental constitution. Had he possessed more sentiment and imagination, and greater enthusiasm for the ideal, he would doubtless have increased his popularity with certain classes; but his success and usefulness would not have been greater. He was not a theorist. To every question presented for his consideration, action or assent, he applied a vigorous inductive analysis. He never signed a paper without carefully noting its contents. His character rested on a base of granite—principle—upon which he was enabled to build no ordinary structure in the form of public virtue, private integrity and high christian culture. An inflexible personal independence kept guard over the intellect and conscience. Respectful to all, he yet followed the leadership of his own judgment under Divine guidance, which he sought in every act of his life. He had no ambition for mere place or power; but when either was given, he sought to honor the position, while by it he was honored. He never spoke unless he had something to say. Those who opposed him never questioned his scrupulous integrity. Not indifferent to criticism, yet seldom exhibiting any emotion, or taking any pains to correct public opinion when assailed or his motives mis-judged, he was not unmindful of the approbation of his brethren in the ministry, of the church and of the world. There were no trifles in his life. Every thing that deserved attention or demanded support received his careful thought and his best effort. Such was his division of time and observance of order in business and his mental processes, that he was always self-possessed. In his study everything was kept as orderly as the mind that presided over it. His sermons and platform efforts were methodical. He thoroughly analyzed his subject until his mind had reached a direct conclusion by logical and correct methods, and then stated, in the simplest language, what that conclusion was and how he arrived at it. So thorough had been the preparation and quick his perception, that it appeared impossible to draw him aside or embarrass him. He was accustomed to say, "Every man's material should be thoroughly his own, and his acquaintance with it so positive, that the shock of an earthquake could not dispossess him of it for a moment. His sermons for logical clearness were models. A successful preacher, enlightening the mind, directing the judgment and influencing the will of his auditors, thereby winning souls to Christ. He was also a prudent legislator and a noble defender of the doctrines and usages of our church. Indeed, as administrator of discipline, he had but few equals. He sought not to "mend our rules, but to keep them," and not for wrath, but conscience sake. In manner he was reserved, and appeared to many cold. He shrank instinctively from that general acquaintance and notoriety in which persons differently constituted find pleasure. His friendship, though not demonstrative, was strong and enduring. To say that he never erred, would be ascribing to him perfection that belongs not to finite beings. In summing up the labors of his long life, it may truly be said, he was a self-made man. He was never triflingly employed. He preached nearly fifteen thousand sermons, besides performing the other duties pertaining to his office. In doing this, he rode on horseback more than equal to four times around the globe. In 52 years he was never absent from a session of his Conference, and never failed to answer to his name at the opening of the session. His place was seldom vacant for a moment during the session. Thirty odd years he was a trustee of some of our literary institutions. Seldom was he absent from the meeting of the Board, always showing himself thoroughly identified with the educational interests of the church. He was also a positive friend of our common school system; the last public service rendered by him, outside of his charge, was an address at the dedication of a high school building in the city of Burlington. He thought it the duty of the ministry to identify themselves with all subjects of general interest, that the transforming power of the Gospel might be stamped upon them. Though a member of eight General Conferences, he was always in his place at the opening, and never left it till the adjournment of the session. The same faithfulness marked his action as a member of the General Mission Committee. In 1853 he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from the Ohio Wesleyan University, and, though a surprise to him, it was an honor worthily bestowed. Entering upon the active work of the ministry with limited literary attainments, he at once commenced a systematic division of his time, devoting certain hours to literary pursuits, and notwithstanding the exhausting labors of the itinerant fifty years ago, at the age of forty-two he had acquired a liberal education, including Greek and Hebrew, so as to make the original always available in the literal rendering of the Word of Life. As well he had completed a course in law, with no other view than to meet every demand that might be made upon him as a servant of the church. As an author he holds a reputable place. "Power on Universalism," "Doolittle and Power" (a discussion on the same subject), "Domestic Piety," and "Letters to Dr. Smith on Slavery," are all in style attractive, and for logical clearness are models.

September 13, 1827, he was united in marriage to Miss Mary N. Beard, of Parkersburg, Virginia, who still survives. If ever a wife deserved the vision of honor, she does. During forty-five years, in the midst of constant physical suffering, she cheerfully shared with him the labors of an itinerant, and greatly facilitated his studies by relieving him from most of the cares of the family. In the closing years of life there was no change in his hours for study. He often said that he could not prevent an increase of years, but, by the grace of God, he intended to live and die young in heart and vigorous in mind. His religious experience was uniform, through which he was enabled to say, "The path of the just is as the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." His "righteousness was as the light, and his lightness as the noonday." Bravely did he fight the battle of life—gloriously did he triumph; and when that innumerable company, gathered from earth, shall be marshalled on the bright plains, he will come, bringing his sheaves with him, and many shall be the stars in his crown.

RESOLUTIONS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF IOWA WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY.

WHEREAS, Rev. JOHN H. POWER, D. D., has, during the past year, ceased his long, interesting, laborious and useful life, which was characterized by unusual zeal, extraordinary faithfulness and corresponding success in the cause of religion and learning, and largely contributed to the store of human research and knowledge, and has left a name luminous, yet not so remarkable for its brilliancy as for its usefulness, and unsurpassed by none and equaled by few in its uniform steady devotion to the cause of right and the upbuilding of the great interests of enlightened religion and true improvement; and

WHEREAS, He has been for many years an honored member, and for a long time past President, of this Board of Trustees; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That we deem it fitting that we express our high appreciation of the life and services of our deceased brother and father, and spread it upon the records of this institution as a testimonial of our esteem.

2. That we recognize in the life and character of our deceased brother, and in his zeal and faithfulness, an example worthy of the imitation of those who may follow him, and upon whose shoulders rest the responsibilities which, in large part, were heretofore borne by him.

3. That in the death of Dr. Power we recognize the end of a long and laboriously useful life, and his virtues adorn his tomb and memory, and hang rich and ripe and heavily laden, like Eshcol's bunch of grapes, the pride of our goodly land, and his virtues should prompt others to lives of like usefulness and honor.

4. That the name of John H. Power, D. D., be held in perpetual remembrance by this Board and the institution which it represents, and be embalmed in our hearts and ever be held in grateful esteem.

5. That we deem it proper that we recommend to the patronizing Conference, of which he was so long an honored member, and which he so long represented in this Board, that a suitable memorial service be held during its next session.

6. That a copy of this preamble and resolutions be furnished to the widow and family of the deceased, under the signature of the President and Secretary of this Board and the seal of the College, and also to the Iowa Conference.

I hereby certify to the above, as adopted by the Trustees June 17, 1873.
E. H. WARING, Secretary.

2. Rev. AMOS SUMMERS PRATHER, A. M., was born in Clark County, Indiana, April 17th, 1832, and died at Birmingham, Iowa, April 1st, 1873, aged 40 years, 11 months and 14 days.

He came to Iowa when quite young, and with his parents settled near Libertyville, Jefferson County. He professed to find peace in believing in 1846, and became a member of the M. E. Church in the village where he resided. His convictions of duty pointed him to the ministry as a life work. But being without the necessary qualifications, as he thought, for this important work, and also without money or friends to aid him in his contemplated course, he went forth, nevertheless, trusting that He who had called him to this work would also open the way for his advance. He entered the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute in 1850, then under the care of Prof. E. W. Gray, and continuing his studies in this school when this institution was merged into the Iowa Wesleyan University under the Rev. Lucien W. Berry, D. D. Still pressing his way onward, he finally took his degree of B. A., in 1857. He was licensed to preach while at college, in 1854. He was immediately, on completing his college course, employed on the Dodgeville Circuit as a supply by the Presiding Eldor, Dr. J. H. Power. He was received on trial in the Iowa Conference in the fall of 1857, and in due course was admitted to deacons and elders orders, being ordained deacon by Bishop Simpson in 1859, and elder by Bishop Scott in 1861. He had the pastoral care of the following charges: In 1857-58, Denmark; 1859-60, Wapello; 1861, Dodgeville; 1862-63, Grandview; 1864-65, Crawfordsville; 1866, New London; 1867-68, Kossuth; 1869, Montezuma; 1870-71, New Sharon; and 1872, Birmingham, where he "ceased at once to work and live."

Brother Prather never aspired to brilliancy in his pulpit efforts. Solid truth was the weapon on which he relied for victory. Metaphysical often, but never obscure, his hearers felt that he was always dealing out and illustrating plain truth, whether they heeded it or not. He impressed every one at once with the fact that he was an honest man, intent upon his work. In the midst of special services, which had been continued in all parts of his field, he was compelled to yield under the weight of his labors and the blight of disease, and fell as falls the hero—a conqueror even in death. Trying to cheer his companion in view of her anticipated loss, he said: "If I am to leave my work now, I know there is a glittering crown for me in heaven." He died as the good man always dieth—all covered with victory.

His wife, to whom he was married in 1858, and four children and an adopted niece remain among us. But each of our annual gatherings will only bring to them memories of a manly voice which was once heard in our councils, but shall never again thrill the lonely household with joy at his return, or proclaim the love of a Saviour to the lost, as a herald of mercy. O, that hope, full and ever glorious, may guide all their future pathways to heaven !

E. L. BRIGGS.

3. Rev. JAMES H. WHITE was born in Fearing Township, Washington County, Ohio, August 2, 1814, and died in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, July 17, 1873.

In 1831, while an apprentice in Zanesville, Ohio, he was, through the ministry of J. M. Trimble, brought to Christ, and immediately set about preparing himself for the ministry, to which he felt the Lord had called him. With means earned by his trade, he supported himself for three years in Washington College, Marietta, Ohio; and in October, 1836, began his ministry, as a supply on Newport Circuit, with Pardon Cook as a colleague. In 1837 he was received into the Pittsburg Conference, and for fifteen years served important charges within its bounds. In the fall of 1853 he was transferred to the Iowa Conference, where, with the exception of two years in the local ranks, he filled satisfactorily some of the principal charges, until 1861, when he took a superannuated relation, in which he continued until the close of his life. While in this relation, he was appointed Chaplain of the 37th Iowa Infantry (Gray-Beard Regiment), which position he held until the close of the war; but for a part of the time he was made superintendent of contrabands, with headquarters at St. Louis. In the spring of 1869 he was appointed Postmaster at Mt. Pleasant, which office he filled to the entire satisfaction of all for four years.

Brother White was no ordinary man. He was possessed of a vigorous intellect, a tenacious memory, a vivid imagination and a strong will. He was a man of pronounced opinions, a radical of the best type on all great moral questions of his day and country. He was a man of great courage; he knew no fear. He was a member of the original abolition party. While yet in college, while the principles and policy of the party were obnoxious to the masses and those in high places, both in Church and State, he fully identified himself with it, and became locally one of its boldest and most active advocates. Nor could the arguments of threats, of ridicule, of stones and rotten eggs, so freely employed in those days by its opposers, move him from his steadfastness. He was among the most cheerful of men; he did not know what it was to be gloomy or despondent. His retentive memory had enabled him to treasure up an almost exhaustless store of anecdotes, with which he delighted to entertain his friends around the fireside or enliven his less grave public discourses. He possessed great power of mimicry, and no one could resist laughter as he acted the characters introduced in his anecdotes. But we must not suppose he was nothing but a gleeful man, fitter for the stage than for the pulpit, and that all he could do was to make his hearers smile. On the contrary, he was a most earnest spirit, and this when in the pulpit gave character not only to his words, but to his manner and voice. Moved himself, he moved his audiences. Often the entire congregation would be melted to tears under his preaching. He had great skill in delineating the workings of the human heart, and this made his sermons to be remarkably close and searching. The results were marked and lasting. Many were brought to Christ through his instrumentality. While strong in his convictions and intense in his hatred of wrong, he was full of love and gentleness. One more tenderly devoted to his friends I have seldom or never seen, and no where did he appear to me to be so good and great as in his own house. His departing hour was more than peaceful—it was triumphant. Death came with slow and measured step, and our brother was fully aware of his approach. But to him he was not the king of terrors, from whom he would fain have fled—but rather was he the great liberator, for whose coming he longed. Many will recollect his letter of a few weeks ago in the Pittsburg Christian Advocate, to his old friends in the ministry and laity in the Pittsburg Conference, in which he rejoiced so exceedingly in the complete salvation with which God was crowning his life's close. That same faith and joy and hope continued to the last. The day before his death he said to his wife: "I feel so well. I feel that, like Simeon of old, I have the Savior right here in my arms." A few hours before his departure, looking out of his window, he spoke of the beauty of the trees and their leaves, and in rapture said to those in the room: "Look! Could anything be more beautiful?" exclaiming meanwhile, "Glory, glory, hallelujah." And thus, up to the moment when speech failed him, did he occupy himself with utterances of affection for his friends and praises to God—too many to be repeated here, but which will ever be sacred words to the hearts of those on whose listening ears they fell.

II. MINISTERS' WIVES:

1. Mrs. MARIA LA MONTE COWLES was born at Charlottesville, New York, January 4th, 1836, and died at the residence of her brother, Jacob P. La Monte, Hamilton, Illinois, August 2d, 1873.

She was converted and joined the M. E. Church at the age of thirteen, and continued a faithful, consistent christian up to the time of her death. She graduated at the New York Conference Seminary in 1855, and was married February 24th, 1857. In filling the important position of the wife of an itinerant minister, she displayed all those excellencies of character that belong to the christian woman. In entire sympathy with her husband in his work, she always enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the church. In her family relations, as wife and mother, she was prudent, affectionate and faithful. The home in which she was the center of affection and reverence was a model of the well ordered christian home. Much of her time and care was given to the moral and religious training of the children. In her character as a christian, Mrs. Cowles was a quiet, unobtrusive, but earnest and devoted follower of Christ. The graces of the Holy Spirit that dwelt within her were manifested in a ripe experience and a holy life.

Our sister suffered for many years from disease of the heart, but endured all her sufferings with patience and resignation; and as the outward frame sank beneath the power of the disease, the spirit appeared to increase in strength from day to day, until the triumph was complete over all bodily suffering as well as over all doubts and fears of death. When told that she was dying, she replied: "I did not know it was so pleasant to die. I never was so happy in all my life." And when she saw her friends weeping around her, she said: "Do not weep; I had much rather you would sing than weep." And with many joyful and loving words, she exhorted her husband, children and friends to meet her in heaven; and then, sinking into a peaceful slumber, she passed away so quietly that "we thought her dying while she slept, and sleeping when she died."

E. H. WARING.

2. Mrs. ESTHER McDOWELL, wife of Rev. Joseph McDowell, was born in Franklin County, Pennsylvania, November 7th, 1792, and died in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, November 26th, 1872, aged 80 years and 18 days.

In her twelfth year she united with the Methodist Episcopal Church and professed saving faith in Christ. November 26th, 1818, she was united in marriage to her now bereaved husband. Nearly forty years she endured the privations and met the responsibilities of an itinerant's wife. She was devoted to her family as a wife and mother. Retiring in her nature, she shrank from contact with the outer world; but through a consciousness of pardon and oneness with God, she was enabled to show to those with whom she was associated that she was free from condemnation. For many years, through age and affliction, she was disqualified for active home duties; yet her faith was unshaken in God and His goodness, while she contemplated with pleasure the time of her release and the crown of life which the Lord, the righteous judge, had promised. Thus with the discipline of 68 years in the militant church she entered upon the bliss of the church triumphant.

G. N. POWER.

3. Mrs. N. J. RANKIN, wife of Rev. J. S. Rankin, died August 8th, 1873, of consumption.

The deceased was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania. She was happily converted to God in her childhood, and during her whole life never faltered in allegiance to the Savior. She was married to Rev. J. Rankin September 12th, 1867, and immediately came west to join him in the toils and trials incident to the itinerant life in the Iowa Conference. She shared the labors with her husband on the following appointments: Kosta, Kellogg, Montezuma, Durant and Muscatine Circuit. The last year of her life was one of great physical suffering, and yet one of great peace of mind and confidence in Jesus. Her end was peace. "Let me go, Lord Jesus; receive my spirit," were among her last words. She left three small children, a husband and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss.

4. Mrs. HANNAH ELLIOTT SHANE was born in Jefferson County, Ohio, August 12th, 1849.

When brought to see the need of salvation she became a member of the Presbyterian Church. On September 18th, 1860, she was married to Rev. B. F. Shane, and on her husband's entering the itinerancy of the M. E. Church she joined with him and became a member of that church. As a wife and a mother she faithfully performed her duties, gaining the esteem of all who knew her, until the 27th of April, 1873, when she entered peacefully into that "rest that remaineth for the people of God." On Saturday evening before her death she said: "I would like to live to raise my children, but I know that God will take care of them. Last night was the brightest and happiest of all my life; this room was filled with glory, and Jesus was in the midst." She bade her neighbors and friends farewell with smiles of joy and peace, saying: "You have been good neighbors: meet me in heaven." She arranged her affairs with calmness, giving directions in regard to her children and her funeral. All night her mind was occupied in contemplating heavenly visions. On Sabbath morning as she sank deeper into the chilling waters, when asked, "Is the way bright?" the answer was: "Yes, bright! I know that my Redeemer liveth." And when speech failed she continued to smile an affirmative answer, until at eleven o'clock she passed away to that unseen world whence none ever return.

C. W. SHEPHERD.

5. Mrs. HARRIET OLIVE SHEPHERD, the wife of Rev. C. W. Shepherd, pastor of the Drakeville Circuit, Iowa Conference, died at the parsonage on March 12th, 1873, at the age of 22 years, 3 months and 5 days.

She was the daughter of Mr. Asa F. Davis, of Keosauqua, Iowa. Was born there on December 7th, 1850. She was adopted into the family of C. E. Yeager, on the death of her mother, at six years of age. Was married to Rev. C. W. Shrpherd September 20th, 1870, at the age of 20. In the home of Brother Yeager, a class leader for many years, she embraced religion at the age of sixteen; and as a private member, and as the wife of an itinerant, she lived a consistent christian and ended her career in triumph. When told that she must die, she was not startled in the least, but calmly bowed to the stroke, and finished her preparations with loving submission to the Savior's will. Yielding up her two children—one but a week old—to the care of the Divine Father, she bade her friends sing, "The sweet by and by," and fell asleep in Jesus. She retained her consciousness to the last, and her day closed as serenely as the setting sun of a summer's evening. Her body rests in the cemetery at Keosauqua. After listening to an affecting discourse by the Rev. W. J. Spaulding, the many kind friends that followed her to the grave retired in full confidence that she has won the prize and entered "into the rest which remains for the people of God."

XI. PERIODICALS.

Resolved, 1. That we are highly gratified with the presence of Dr. Fry, editor of the Central Christian Advocate, at our Conference, and that we congratulate him on the marked improvements that have been made in the paper during the last year.

2. That we prefer a reduction of price in our periodicals to the offering of cheap picture premiums for increased circulation.

3. That we call attention to the superior character of the Teachers' Journal, and that we will introduce it in our schools in preference to other Sunday school publications of the same kind.

4. That we continue the Central Christian Advocate as our Conference paper, and will endeavor to increase its circulation.

XII. PREACHERS' AID SOCIETY.

We consider the matters referred to us to be of too great importance to be acted upon without more information with reference to Preachers' Aid Societies than we at present possess. We therefore recommend to the Conference the appointment of a committee, consisting of O. P. Light, Ira O. Kemble and J. T. Simmons, whose business it shall be to secure from the societies now in successful operation any information that may be of value on the above questions, and to prepare and submit to the next session of the Conference for their action a constitution and by-laws for the establishment and control of such society.

XIV. THE SABBATH.

WHEREAS, We regard the Sabbath as a day designed and set apart for physical and intellectual rest, the worship of God and moral and religious culture—the necessity for its observance lying in man's essential nature, it is incumbent upon all men everywhere, without regard to nationality, to carefully observe it in accordance with Divine direction ; and

WHEREAS, We regard the future welfare of our country and the morality and christian culture of society as largely dependent upon the faithful observance of the Sabbath, and viewing as we do with disapproval such infringements upon the sacred use of the day as the running of cars and steamboats and the keeping saloons and billiard halls open on that Holy day ; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That while the religious observance of the Sabbath day cannot be made compulsory, we hold it is the right of society to demand of legislators and magistrates that it should at least be outwardly observed.

2. That it is the duty of all good citizens to array themselves against all legislation tending to unsettle the public mind in regard to the duty of remembering the Sabbath day to keep it holy.

3. That as preachers of the Iowa Conference we will not cease to raise our voices against all Sabbath desecration.

C. P. REYNOLDS,

XVI. STATE OF THE CHURCH.

"What hath God wrought ?" The Church advances ; strength and beauty adorn her ; light and glory crown her. God is in the midst of her. We rejoice that holiness to the Lord is widening and deepning, both in the thought and experience of the Church. As a consequence, the Church is advancing in all her interests. At the touch of love christian beneficence flows more rapidly and clearly. The Church is awakening to her duty to those who serve her in the Gospel. Beautiful churches are rising all over the land. Comfortable preachers' houses are multiplying. Our schools are increasing in number and in endowments. Our missionary work is stretching its arms over earth's dark places, and pouring its light upon the nations.

The advance of the Church in true work for christian women is a matter for congratulation, and we anticipate greater progress. Narrow prejudice must give way, and an oppressive Church order shall not check the aspirations of the daughters of our Israel. Noble christian women are recognized as legitimate leaders in the work of saving the world. Ministerial education is advancing. Methodists are now few, if not extinct, who deem it a sin for men, called of God to preach, to desire and seek the fullest mental preparation. The Church demands an educated ministry. Hence our theological schools, etc. Amid all this we are not losing sight of the great qualification—the baptism of the Holy Spirit. We rejoice that our ranks are being filled with young men, of whom the Church need not be ashamed. Our Church has grown more radical on the subject of temperance. In many Conferences even abstinence from tobacco is a condition of membership, and our members are seeing the evil of it and abandoning it. We have not lost our aggressive power. Revivals are not matters of history. He in whom was life still breathes into dead souls, and behold! they live. Thus God is leading us on. Our doctrines of free agency, free grace and the witness of the Spirit meet with acceptance. Other christians go hand in hand with us in working for souls.

But we must guard some points. Our people need to be stirred up to a more faithful observance of our social privileges. Unless we keep up these, we shall lose our power. These means of grace are, in a large sense, the life of the Church, and unless we are careful, in their grave our spirituality may be buried.

R. S. ROBINSON, Chairman.

XIX. TEMPERANCE.

Intemperance is said to be on the increase in its fearful work of destroying the souls and bodies of men. In view of this fact, we, as christians, ought to be loyal to God and man by neither touching, tasting or handling the unclean thing, or in any way giving the remotest encouragement to any kind of intemperance; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That as men and ministers we will keep ourselves clear of this evil.

2. That we will recommend to all our Stewards in the Church to provide, if possible, unfermented wine for sacramental uses.

3. That we will aid in the circulation of petitions among our people to put wine and beer upon the list with intoxicating drinks, that they be prohibited by law.

J. GASSNER,
J. G. THOMPSON.
